Fishers of Men

Mark 1:16-18

As He was going along by the Sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew, the brother of Simon, casting a net in the sea; for they were fishermen.

And Jesus said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you become fishers of men.”

Immediately they left their nets and followed Him.

VOLUME 25 NUMBER 7

I WANT TO BE Saved
LIKE THEY WERE IN ACTS
Allen Webster

The New Testament books of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John record the life, teachings, commands, and promises of Jesus. One promise was, "I will build My church" (Matthew 16:18). One command was, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mark 16:15).

The book of Acts is based on those two verses. Acts 1 records Jesus' ascension to heaven; Acts 2 records the building of His church; Acts 3-28 record Christians taking the gospel to the world.

The good news, aided by God's Spirit, flowed down Mount Zion with such momentum that it soon spread from Jerusalem to Judea, Samaria, and the faraway capital of Rome (Acts 1:8; Isaiah 2:2-4). It had such force that it still circles the globe today.

WHAT GOD DID

Preachers are quick to talk about what man must do to be saved, but the discussion of salvation begins with what God did and does. God loved man and initiated salvation when men were sinners (John 3:16; 12:47; Acts 10:36; Romans 5:6-8).

God sent His Son to take the punishment man deserved (Acts 13:23; 1 John 4:14). Isaiah prophesied of this, "We all, like sheep, have gone astray; we have turned, every one, to his own way; and the Lord has laid on Him the iniquity of us all" (Isaiah 53:6).

WHAT THE APOSTLES TAUGHT

Acts shows God's plan of salvation applied in ten specific conversions, some non-conversions, and a few related summary statements.

In Acts 3:19 and 26, instruction was given to repent and be converted, but no conversions took place. In 5:29, Peter told the council that men "ought to obey God rather than men," but they rejected it, and none were converted (5:33). Apollos was a convert who needed further teaching (18:24-26). Felix, Festus, and Agrippa rejected the gospel (24:25; 26:24, 28).

The Privilege of Knowing God

Paul confided, "For this reason I also suffer these things; nevertheless I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep what I have committed to Him until that Day" (2 Timothy 1:12). He said, "I know whom [not merely what] I have believed."

The Christian's assurance is linked to God the Father's character. God the Father has some astonishing metaphysical attributes:

- Self-existent (Psalm 90:2; John 5:26);
- Eternal (Psalm 90:1-2);
- Omniscient (Hebrews 4:13);
- Omnipotent (Daniel 4:35);
- Holy (1 Peter 1:15-16; Revelation 4);
- Faithful and just (John 7:24);
- Merciful (Titus 3:4-7).

He has an even more amazing moral characteristic: God is a being of absolute love (1 John 4:8, 11). This is one of the great themes of the New Testament (John 3:16; 10:28-29; Romans 8:31-39; Ephesians 2:5, 8-9; 1 Peter 1:3-5; 1 John 4:7-21). God's love shows that He gave His Son to die in our place (John 3:16), while we were yet sinners (Romans 5:8). It also shows that He does not want a single person to be lost (2 Peter 3:9; 1 Timothy 2:4).

God's faithfulness also leads us to confidence in our salvation. He promised (1 Peter 1:5-7; 2 Peter 1:1-2). A faithful Christian's "I don't feel saved" equals a lack of faith in the promises of God. —Anonymous
